Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2. Claims 1-8,16,18-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kain. Kain shows a connecting system (16) comprising a child car seat (10) in a vehicle, the child car seat being of a type which can either be rearward or forward facing and having a rear strap path for use when the seat is in the forward facing position and a front strap path for use when the seat is in the rearward facing position, the connecting system including a connecting strap (40) having latches (42) at either end thereof and which are adapted to engage with latching bars (18) on the vehicle, the connecting strap passing through and being fixed in a strap duct (41, Fig. 1) via rivets (48) and when the connecting strap being latched/locked to the vehicle seat, the connecting strap being sufficiently long that respective ends extending from each side of the strap duct can extend out the opposite side of the front strap path for use when the child car seat is in the rearward facing position or extend out the opposite side of the rear strap path for use when the child car seat is in the forward facing position.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 9-15, and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kain. Kain shows all of the teachings of the claimed invention. The method steps as claimed would have been obviously incorporated within the use of the invention, as taught by Kain.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 11/16/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In reference to applicant's argument that Kain fails to teach the use of a "connecting strap passing through and being permanently fixed in a strap duct", the examiner is of the opinion that Kain teaches the use of a connecting strap (40) passing through and being fixed in a strap duct, when the straps are latched/locked to the vehicle seat.. Kain shows the strap being "permanently" fixed via the rivets and leash (20), which is part of the connecting strap, in the strap duct.
